A few weeks ago she appeared at the home of Mrs. J. R. Harkins, No. 5077 Fairmount avenue, in answer to an advertisement for a cook. She was employed and proved a jewel until the fourth day, when she disappeared, as did also a purse containing $2, a gold bar pin, a diamond pin and wearing apparel valued at $40. She was and wearing apparel valued at $40. She was known to Mrs. Harkins as Martha Jones. She left there on August 6 and on the same day obtained work as a cook at the home of Mrs. H. C. Parker, No. 723 Aubert avenue, on the recommendation of Joe Freeman, the houseman. Four days after her installment in the kitchen she left suddenly with a handsome imported gown which Mrs. Parker had bought to attend the Natled Propher's hall lest year.

which Mrs. Parker had bought to attend the Veiled Prophet's ball last year.
Complaint was made to the police and Detectives Woodling and Roberts of the Tenth District were assigned to the case. Freeman was arrested, but later was released. The next day he brought the gown hack to Mrs. Parker. Again he was locked up, and this time he confessed where the woman was. Monday night the officers arrested her at Fourteenth and Morgan streets. A warrant was sworn out against Freeman and her yesterday, charging them with the theft of the dress.

CROPS DAMAGED BY THE DROUGHT.

Southern Missouri, Kansas, Western Nebraska, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Tennessee Affected.

UNTHRASHED OATS INJURED.

Slight Improvement in Cotton Condition Reported From Mississippi and Louisiana-Tobacco Needs Rain.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Aug. 21.-The special weekly crop report, issued to-day by the Department of Agriculture, is as follows:

This is the third week of excessive heat over the greater part of the country east of the Rocky Mountains, and, while intensely warm from the Middle Rocky Mountain slope and Upper Missouri Valley eastward to the Atlantic Coast, a large part of the central valleys and portions of the Middle Atlantic States and New England have been favored with abundant rains. Western Nebraska, Kansas, Southern Missouri and an area extending from Oklahoma eastward over Arkansas to Central Tennessee, as well as portions of the Middle Atlantic and East Gulf States, are suffering more or less seriously from drought. Rain is also needed in Washington and Oregon, and while continued cool weather in California has been favorable to crops it has retarded fruit drying.

In Western Nebraska, Kansas, Central and Southern Missouri and Southern Illinois corn has suffered much from drought and intense heat, but in other portions of the principal corn belt, although injured to some extent by storms, the crop has experienced very favorable conditions and has made rapid progress toward maturity. While the bulk of the crop in the Southern States is made, late corn has been greatly shortened over a large part of this section, as well as portions of the Middle Atlantic States, by the intense heat and lack of moisture during the past two weeks, Spring-wheat harvest has been completed in Minnesota, but frequent rains in the Dakotas have prevented its completion in those States and caused injury to grain in shock and stack, and the overripe, unhar-vested grain is shelling badly. In Washington and Oregon the weather conditions have been favorable for harvesting. The yield in both of these States is reported as disappointing. Considerable injury to unthrashed oats is reported from the States of the Upper Mississippi and Upper Missouri valleys as a result of heavy rains. A slight improve-ment in the condition of cotton is reported from portions of Mississippi and Louisiana, where, however, complaints of insects, shedding and slow growth continue. Over the eastern portions of the cotton belt the reports are generally unfavorable, indicating premature opening, shedding and prevalence of rust. In Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri the reports are also unfavorable, rust and premature opening being gen-eral. In Texas the crop, as a whole, has improved, but is shedding, and has sus-tained damage from rust and insects in

MISSOURI CROP REPORT. Corn Damaged by Drought-Cotton Suffering.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Columbia, Mo., Aug. 21.-The United States Department of Agriculture climate and crop bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Missouri section, for the week ending August 20, issued to-day, says: The last week has been the hottest of the season, the temperature averaging six to nine degrees per day above the normal. Heavy rains fell in nearly all of the west central and northwestern counties on the light and light, and good rains have also failen in a number of the northeastern counties and in some localities in the central and a theast sections.

Over most of the west central and northeastern and a number of the northeastern and a number of the northeastern and a number of the northeast sections.

Ove. most of the west central and north-western and a number of the north-eastern counties the total rainfall for the seven days ending August IS ranged from 1 to 3 inches, and in localities in the extreme northwestern counties exceeded 4 inches, but over the remainder of the State it was generally very light, and in many of the southern counties there was none.

In some localities in the northern sections the rains of the 13th and 15th were accompanied by high winds, which blew off much fruit and flattened corn. In those districts where heavy rains have fallen the condition of the corn crop is greatly improved, and, while in many counties it had been permanently injured to a greater or less extent, many correspondents report that an average, or nearly an average, crop is now practically assured.

In most of the central and southern and many of the northeastern counties, however, corn is drying up rapidly. Many report the crop damaged one-third or more, and in portions of the southern sections much of thelate-planted is about ruined. If dry weather continues considerable corn will be cut during the present week.

Sorghum has been considerably damaged by drougth in some districts but the green.

much of thelate-planted is about ruined. If dry weather continues considerable corn will be cut during the present week. Sorghum has been considerably damaged by drougth in some districts but is generally holding its own very well.

Late potatoes are a good crop in some counties, but in many the crop has been greatly shortened by the drought. Except in those sections where good rains have fallen gardens are badly dried up.

Cotton in the Southeastern counties is suffering from drought and some is opening prematurely. There is also some complaint of rust. Tobacco has been benefitted by the rains and in Knox and Putnam counties is reported in good condition. Clover is being secured in good condition. Clover is being secured in good condition and is a good crop in some counties, while in others the yield is light.

Broomcorn is being cut in Bates and Ralls counties, and is a good crop. Where heavy rains have fallen pastures are looking green again, but over a large portion of the State they are dry and short, and the supply of stock water is becoming very low in many counties. Plowing for wheat is progressing in some of the Western and extreme Northeastern counties, but in mos sections it has been suspended.

In the Northwestern counties orchards have been benefitted by the heavy rains and the condition of the apple crop is somewhat improved, elsewhere apples and peaches have been considerably injured by the drought and hot sun, and in most counties the apple crop will be very light.

FAVORABLE WEEK FOR COTTON.

Texas Crop Improves Some, but Is Below the Average.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 21.—The Texas section of the United States Weather Bureau in its crop bulletin issued to-day for the week ending August 20, reports crop conditions throughout the State as follows:

"The weather has been favorable for cottions throughout the State as follows:
"The weather has been favorable for cotton, except in localities over the Southern portion of the State, where more dry weathportion of the State, where more dry weather is needed. The crop as a whole has improved slightly. It is about an average or above in scattered localities, but as a rule is below an average in most sections of the State. Shedding continues in some places, and a few localities report that the boils are rotting from lack of dry weather. Mexican weevil and boll worm continue to do damages in places. Early cotton is opening and some little picking is reported from various parts of the State. If dry, warm weather continues, picking will soon be general. It appears the crop is as well advanced over North Texas as it is over South Texas, which is due to the fact that cotton had to be replanted several times in the Southern portion of the State before a stand could be secured. As stated in former reports, the crop is very irregular, and ranges from poor to very good. Corn is very good in localities, but the crop as a whole is considered below an average. It is maturing well, and will soon be ready for gathering. There will be enough for home consumption in most sections of the State. Rice sorghum, cane and other crops are doing well."

ILLINOIS CROP REPORT. Corn Has Improved in Northern and Central Distrects.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21,-The following report was issued to-day by the Illinois section of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Agriculture:

The weather has been very warm throughout the State during the past week. Throughout the northern and a large part of the central district good rains have fallen and the growth of vegetation has started with renewed vigor. Over part of the central and most of the southern district the weather has continued dry and vegetation is suffering from lack of moisture. Bein in the north has improved the condi-Rain in the north has improved the condi tion of the ground for plowing, and the work has been resumed. The soil is still hard in the south, and but little plowing is being done. Thrashing has been greatly delayed in the northern and central dis-tricts, and much damage to oats in shock is reported. a reported.

In the southern part of the State thrash-ing is about completed, with a good yield of oats and a fair yield of wheat. In the northern and central districts corn has generally recovered from the effects of the dry erally recovered from the effects of the dry weather and a very large yield is promised. In some localities considerable damage was done by wind and heavy rain.

Except in a few localities, dry weather in the southern district has continued to injure corn. It is firing badly and maturing very rapidly. Some fields are already almost the description for earlier Pastures, have very raphily, Some helds are already almost in fit condition for cutting. Pastures have been revived in the northern and central districts, but in the southern districts they have become very dry.

Harvesting broomcorn and stock pease is Harvesting broomcorn and stock pease is in progress and both crops are good.

Tobacco is generally good, Gardens are badly injured south, but slightly improved north. Potatoes are generally doing well, but in some places they are rotting or drying up. Apple prospects seem to have improved slightly in the northern and central district, but dry weather in the southern district has caused further slight deterioration. In a few localities the yield promises to be very large, but it is much below the average. Sprayed orchards are doing much better than those unsprayed. The prospects for other fruits are fair.

WRECK ON THE C. & A.

Accident at an Interlocking Switch Near Carlinville.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Carlinville, Ill., Aug. 21.-The evening passenger train on the Chicago and Alton Railroad was wrecked half a mile north of this city this evening. C. S. Patierson, the baggage man, and Frank Hall, the fireman, were injured.

The engineer says the Dee rall was thrown by mistake instead of the signal arm. The train was running thirty miles an hour and the Dee rail was thrown while the engine was about twenty yards from it. The fireman jumped at once, and after the wreck was found in an adjacent field so dazed from the shock that physicians are now working with him. The baggage man's right leg was broken below the thigh. The hundred passengers on the train were thrown about the coaches by the shock of the sudden stop, but none were seriously injured, scalp wounds being the rule. Six traveling men from St. Louis were on the train, and but one received a scratch. The track was torn up for 200 feet and was blocked for several hours. The engine, tender, baggage and express cars are in the ditch. thrown by mistake instead of the signal

DELEGATES IN NEW COMPANY.

Organized to Make Use of Law for Which They Voted.

Fred R. Belt, who succeeded in having the Municipal Assembly pass an ordinance permitting him to erect receptacles at the street corners for paper and refuse, yesterday, with Delegates Louis Decker and George F. Robertson, filed articles of in-corporation for the Missouri Advertising corporation for the Missouri Advertising Company.

The capital stock of $3,000, which is fully paid in, is divided into thirty shares of $100 each, each of the incorporators holding ten shares. When the ordinance was presented in the House of Delegates both Robertson and Decker voted for it. However, the ordinance was never carried into effect because President McMath of the Board of Public Improvements declined to approve the specifications offered by Belt, claiming that the measure was illegal.

The McGrew Computing Scale Company, capitalized at $50,000, all paid in, filed articles of incorporation yesterday. The stock is divided into 500 shares, each of $100. Alonzo McGrew holds 320 shares, John L. Sutton, Jr., 140 shares and James McCausland 40 shares.
